BURNING OF THE NEW YORK NEWS PAPER UNION OFFICE.

The disastrous fire that occurred in New York city on Christmas eve incolved, among other heavy losses, the destruction of the New York branch of the American Newspaper Union-Cramer, Aikens & Cramer, of Milwankee, proprietors-whose pecuniary loss is set down at $50,000. Fortunately, however, they were heavily insured in sound and reliable companies, so that their actual loss will probably not reach nore than a third of that figure.

Notwithstanding the heavy blow to their business at a season of the year when such disasters fall with unusual severity, the patrons of the New York branch are assured that no serious inerruption of their business will ensue. The establishment was fully prepared for any emergency of this nature. They have always kept a duplicate stock in store, including presses, type, and other material, so that the delay will be only temporary. It is stated that they will be prepared, in less than a week from the disaster, to supply their patrons with ready-printed sheets as usual,

The Pall Mall Gazette declares that o be perfectly cool and deliberate in the ace of an emergency is no doubt a great merit, but even presence of mind may be carried too far at times, and there are ccasions when the impulse of the heart is a safer guide than the slower operations of the brain. "An inquest was held a day or two ago at Castleford on the body of a pork butcher, who destroyed himself owing to distress of mind produced by an unfounded rumor that he had killed some pigs suffering from foot-and-mouth disease. On Saturday, after getting his dinner, he went into an outhouse, while his wife was upstairs, and hanged himself. When his wife came down stairs she found him hanging, but instead of giving an alarm or cutting him down she went into the house, put on her shawl, walked to Normanton, and then took a cab to Wakefield, where she informed a friend of the melancholy occurrence. The friend immediately drove over to Castleford, and told the police, who at once cut the body down. Such coolness as this almost equals that of the old maiden lady who, after seeing her sister, with whom she lived, consumed accidentally by fire in the parlor, merely rang the bell, and when the servant appeared said, Sweep up these ashes, Jane, and we shall only want one roll for breakfast to-morrow morning."

LIVER COMPLAINT, LIVER DISEASE, I. E. BILIOUSNESS. — Bilious complaints — by some termed liver disease—are very com-mon in this country. The ordinary in-dications, such as yellowness of the skin and whites of the eyes, pain in the right side under the inferior ribs, with some times difficulty of respiration and trou-blesome cough—are familiar to a host of sufferers; but the liver, sometimes, is in a very unsatisfactory state without the presence of such symptoms. HEREDITARY TRANSMISSION. In Galton's recent work treating of ereditary influence, he holds that there are certain marked types of features and temperament. That the latter are inherited no one questions; and the same may therefore be inferred of the former. Galton instances the face of the combatant, which is square, coarse and heavily jawed, differing so strikingly from that of the ascetic, the voluptuary, the dreamer, and the charlatan. But still more strongly marked than these are the typical features and characters of different races of men. The Mongolians, Jews, Negroes, Gipsies and the American Indians severely propagate their kind; and each kind differ in character and intellect, as in color and shape, forming a class of instances worthy of close investigation, in which peculiarities of character are invariably transmitted from the parents to the offspring.

A CHALLENGE

Is extended to the world to place before the public a better cover or Lune remedy than ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

VERILY IT HATH NO EQUAL. CONSUMPTIVES, READ!

Would you care that distressing cough, and bring back that healthy vigor till lately planted in your cheek? If you would, do not delay; for, ere you are aware, it will be too late. ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM

Is your hope. It has been tried by thousands such as you, who have been cured; many, in their graittude, have lent their names to us, that suffering humanity can read their evidence and believe. Don't experiment with new and untried mixtures—you cannot afford it—but try at once this invaluable article. It is warranted to break up the most troublesome cough in a few hours, if not of too long standing. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction in all cases of lung and throat difficulties.

LEARN A TRADE.

One man with a trade is worth a thousand without one. A return to the old plan of apprenticing boys to trades is being advocated. The hosts of young men in every large city who apply for employment and fail to get it, for the reason that they cannot truthfully affirm that they are educated or especially fitted for any particular business, constitute a potent argument in favor of reform. Under the apprentice system, we should have fewer ignorant mechanics and incompetent men. A trade is half a man's fortune.

"Cheer up?" woe-begone invalids. The causes of your gloomy feelings, though they may be chronic and of long standing, are not incurable. A course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the purest and most genial of all vegetable stimulants and correctives, and especially adapted atimulants and correctives, and especially adapted to cases like yours, will relieve you of your bodily ailments and consequent mental misery, speedily, certainly, and without pain. The chills and damps of the present season in fact, all its atmospheric conditions, are unfavorable to dyspeptic, billous and nervous sufferers. They need a stimulant, as well as a tonic and alterative. This wholesome well as a tonic and alterative. This wholes well as a tonic and alterative. This wholesome vegetable preparation combines the three. While it increases the digestive capacity of the stomach, and changes and regulates the condition of the liver and the bowels, it gives an agreeable impulse to the mental faculties and steadles the nerves. Unmedicated stimulants are never advisable; they are too exciting, and often react disastrously. On the other hand, the sham tonics which contain no diffusive stimulant, and are surcharged with drastic evacuants that almost turn a man traide out, are dangerous.
